Pope Benedict XVI appoints Ninth Bishop of Fort Wayne / South Bend

Bishop Kevin C. Rhoades

The Vatican Information Service announced this morning that Pope Benedict the XVI has accepted the resignation of Bishop John M. D'Arcy of the Fort Wayne - South Bend Diocese. Pope Benedict has appointed Bishop Kevin C. Rhoades, Bishop of the Diocese of Harrisburg, to succeed Bishop D'Arcy.

REDEEMER RADIO AM 1450 covered the event LIVE at 10:15am today with follow up analysis after the event.

REDEEMER plans to re-broadcast the news conference on

Saturday, Nov. 14 at 5:00 pm

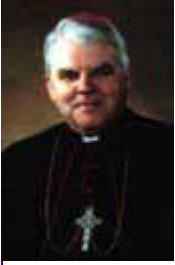

Sunday, Nov. 15 at Noon

Stay tuned to AM 1450 for ongoing coverage!

Redeemer Radio's Sean McBride and Dr. Matthew Bunson interviewed Bishop Rhoades immediately after the news conference.

Bishop John M. D'Arcy welcomes Bishop Rhoades

Here is a portion of the statement read by Bishop D'Arcy at this morning's news conference.

"Now, we have an obligation to welcome him with love. To realize, in faith, that he is sent by Christ. To give thanks to God and to the successor of Peter for this great gift. To cooperate with him and collaborate and pray for him from this moment on. He is a sign that the apostolic ministry will continue in our midst. The Eucharist will be celebrated, the Gospel will be proclaimed, sins will be forgiven, priests will be ordained, the poor will be served and the faith will be nourished. Thanks be to God."

Let us pray for the intercession of our Blessed Mother on behalf of Bishop D'Arcy and Bishop Rhoades through this transition.

In the Love of Christ,
